ECHO CANYON ROAD REPAIRED

Three Gangs at Work Making Mountain Highway Passable

SALT LAKE, May 15.—Three gangs of men are working in Echo canyon improving the road, under the direction of W. O. Stephens, state road agent, in Summit county, according to a report made by J. R. Stewart, maintenance engineer for the state road commission, who has just returned from Echo canyon.

The road is now in passable condition, though storms have delayed work somewhat and will be in excellent shape, Mr. Stewart reports, within a few days.

The maintenance engineer also had praise for the condition of the state road in Morgan county, on the same route. He says that Conway Morris, state road agent in Morgan county, appears to have solved the problem of maintenance there by getting work done on the road at the proper time. Notices have been ordered posted under the law giving the state road commission such powers, to prevent loads of more than 5000 pounds, including the weight of the automobile, from traversing various canyons of the state during the time the frost is coming out of the ground. Such prohibitions to heavy traffic, which would seriously damage the roads, have been or will be posted in Logan, Echo, Paria and Spanish Fork canyons, and in various canyons in the southern part of the state.

Mr. Stewart has been informed that the state road is now open over the divide between Box Elder and Cache counties, thus permitting automobile travel all the way from Salt Lake to Logan and the north. The Logan-Smithfield pavement was reported to be in warped condition, following the winter, when water appeared to have got under the pavement through the longitudinal cracks which have marred that pavement. The pavement is reported as again settling into position. The cracks are attributed to the fact that the pavement was built on a narrower graded road, and insufficient attention was given to the shoulders. This matter will be remedied in the Smithfield-Crossroads project, now under contract to Olin Nelson.

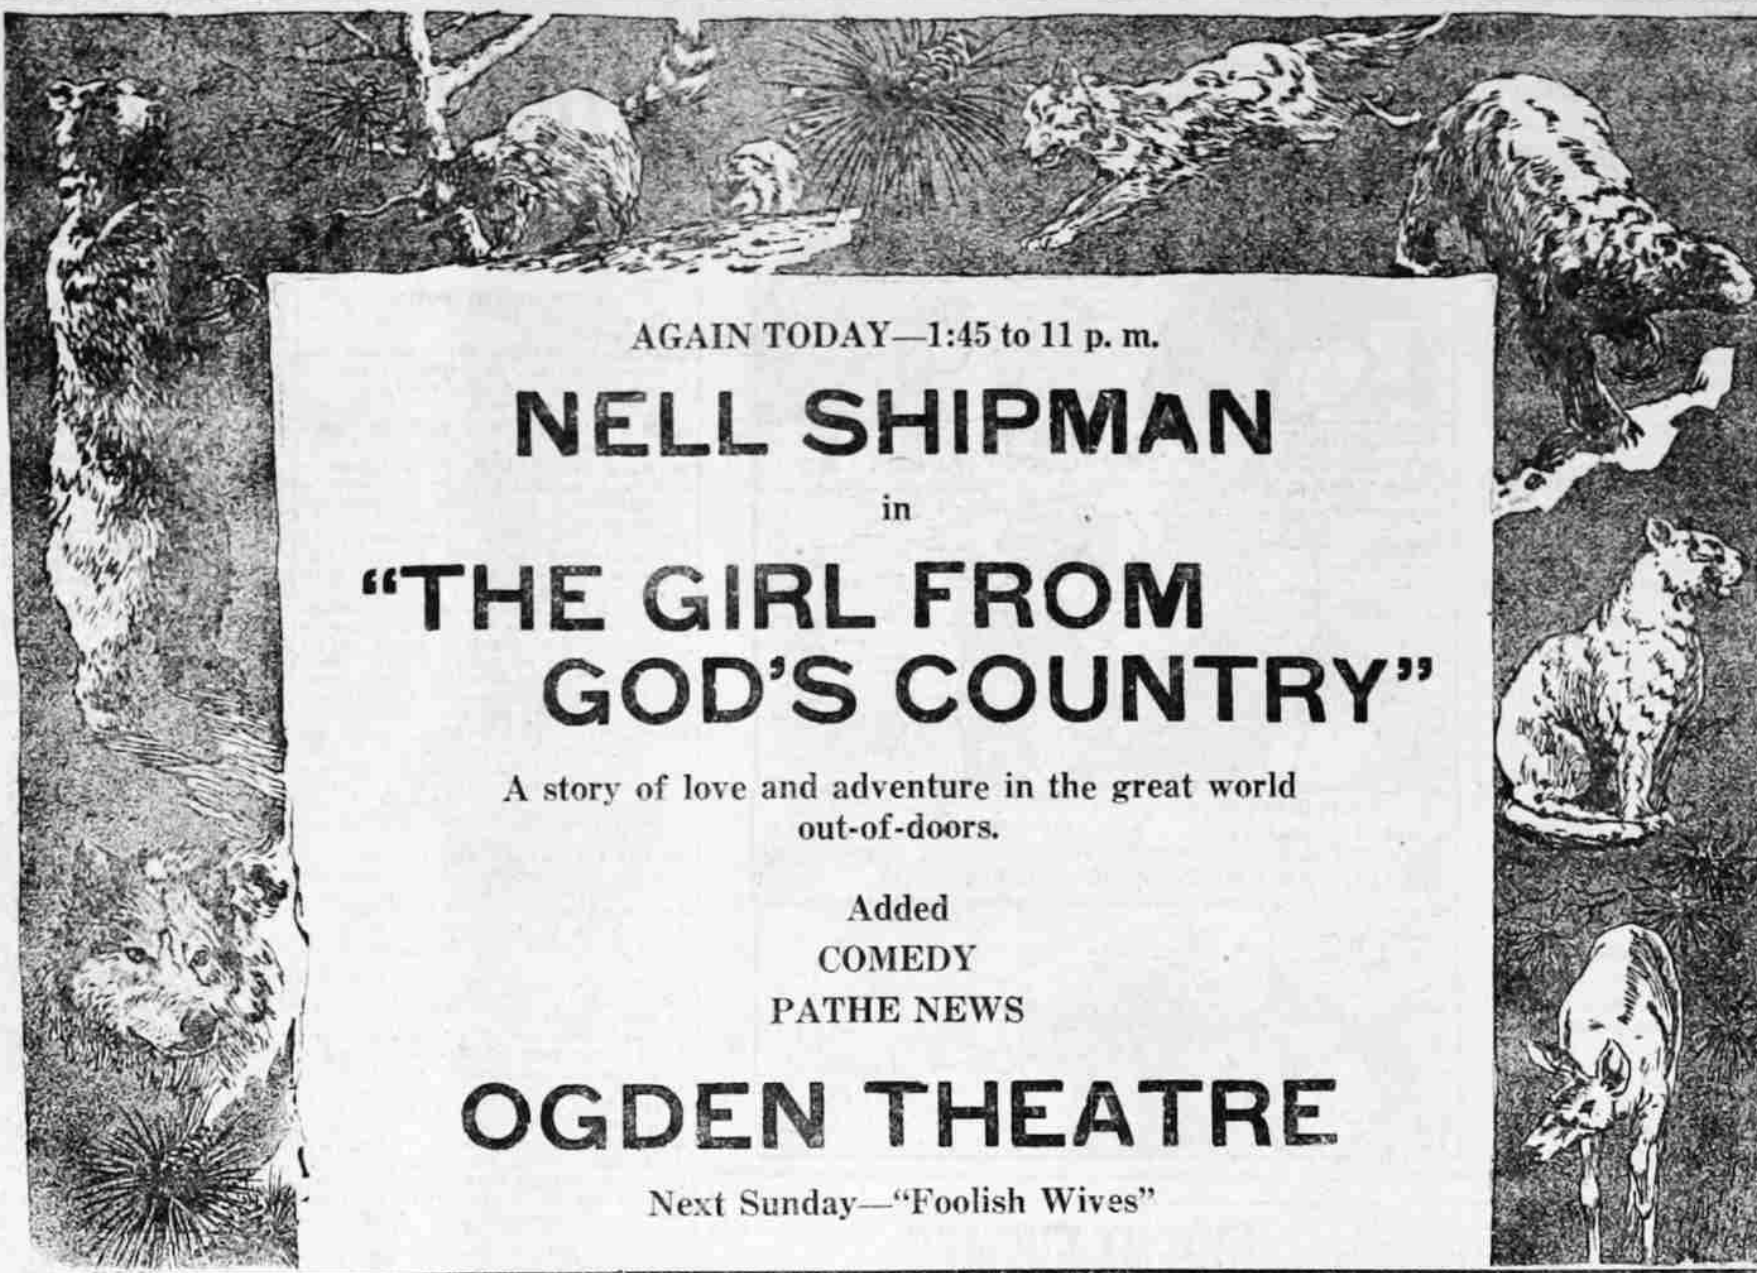

Mr. Stewart says he believes that a bituminous concrete filler may be used this year on the cracks with the effect thus saving a pavement that otherwise is in good condition.

LARGE STOCK OF GASOLINE

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A new high record for the national stock of gasoline, increases in the price of which have been ordered investigated by the senate, was established April 1, according to statistics made public by the federal bureau of mines, showing supplies of the commodity on that date aggregated 854,222,000 gallons.

The stocks on hand April 1 were approximately 17,000,000 gallons greater than on March 1, when the previous high mark of 897,000,000 gallons in storage was made. The April 1 supply, according to the bureau's figures, was 20 per cent larger than on the same date of last year.

The official figures confirmed statements made in the senate that present supplies and those of recent months were greater than ever before in this country.

Further increases in the reserve of gasoline may be expected, the bureau's statement indicated, citing the increase in the number of active refineries in March from 236 to 266.

The bureau reported that kerosene stocks decreased about 10,000,000 gallons during March while a decrease of 125,000,000 gallons from that stock reserves of the same date last year was shown. The total April 1 stock of kerosene was not given. A decrease in production was noted.

Present stocks of gas and fuel oils were listed by the bureau at 1,250,278,000 gallons, a decrease of 71,000,000 gallons as compared with the reserve in February.

The production of lubricating oils fell off by a daily average of 101,040 gallons, according to the bureau, aid.

Attention

In less than a month, is Memorial day. We do not want to forget, we do not desire to be forgotten. But the mind cannot, forever, retain a vanished image.

Eventually, a few words of writing on perishable paper, a faded photograph maybe, or garment crumpled with age, are the only tangible aid to a memory time has dimmed.

That is unless a memorial of enduring stone has been provided. If that is done, the memory will be preserved to coming generations. Beautify your burial plot, and immortalize the memory of those it contains, with a memorial of everlasting stone.

Our memorials, carved in Granite or Marble, are designed for permanence and beauty. They are true memorials. A memorial to a beloved departed, is a last generous act.
